MORTUARY PARLOR DEFY HURLED

ONE HELD IN PROBE INTO BLAZE HERE

One man is being held in the city jail for investigation while police and fire department officials are probing an incendiary fire at the Pacific Grill Sixteenth street and Macdonald avenue early this morning.

One trap set by the fire bug underneath the building had ignited a wall of the structure, while the candle used in a second trap was found by firemen as it was about to reach a pile of highly inflammable material which had been stacked about it.

Nick Lampieres, proprietor of the restaurant, was booked at the city jail for investigation this morning after a probe of the fire by Fire Chief W. P. Cooper and Police Sergeant Charles Mahne.

A can, which had contained kerosene, was found close to the wall of the structure. Chief Cooper also stated that he had found the tracks of the person who had crawled under the building on his hands and knees to fix and fire the traps.

Two candles and a large amount of paper which had been crumpled up to make it burn easier had evidently been used by the firebug.

One of the candles burning faster than the other had reached the paper, set fire to it and ignited the outside wall of the structure. Firemen who arrived after a box alarm had been turned in put this fire out with fire extinguishers and then discovered the other trap a few feet further under the building.

According to Lampieres, he had closed the restaurant at about 10:30 last night and gone to his home. He stated that he did not know of any enemies who might have set the fire.

Steve Barukas is owner of the structure, which is adjacent to the Hotel Leo.

SUICIDE TRY ENDS ILLNESS

SANTA CRUZ, Aug. 5.—UP—A young lawyer whose career was cut short by paralysis sought death by asphyxiation, drowning and knife cuts here today and shocks of the ordeal cured his ailment. He will live.

Five years ago the attorney, Amandus J. Paulsen, was on his way to open his new office when he was struck by an automobile. The motorist fled and was never apprehended. As a result of the accident he was paralyzed so badly he could not move below the hips, nor could he use his hands.

The torture of immobility finally conquered his will to live. Early today he cut his throat with a butcher knife, fell into a tub full of water and turned on a gas jet. His afflictions prevented him from cutting very deep into his throat.

Physicians brought back his consciousness in a short time and were amazed when their patient declared he could again move his hands and feet.

"I never felt better in my life," Paulsen whispered. "I want to live."

And a doctor replied: "You will get well, all right."

J. J. Burdon and Son, Richmond painters, were awarded the contract for the painting of the Memorial hall at Vallejo by the Solano county board of supervisors yesterday.

NEVIN CITY CALLS FOR LIGHT BIDS

Nevin avenue, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth and Ninth streets are to have a modern system of electroliers, which will add much to the attractiveness of that section.

After months of consideration, the receiving of petitions asking for the work, and then protests signed by many of the same people, who originally favored the improvement, the city council was left in a quandary as to what it should do.

Letters giving the cost of both the electrolier and the bracket system, were mailed out to all of the property owners in the proposed district.

At the council meeting last night, the tabulation of the answers were received were given out.

40 In Favor
Regarding the electrolier system 15 resident and 2 non resident property owners sent in replies favoring the improvement. These property owners represented 40 acts.

For the bracket system of lights four resident owners, and two non resident owners sent in replies. They represented 12 lots.

Only two resident owners and two non resident owners were opposed to any new lighting system.

Protests Overruled
Councilman A. B. Hinkley then moved that in view of the replies received by the council, that the protest filed two weeks ago be overruled. This was carried by unanimous vote of all members.

A motion was then adopted inviting bids for the work to be received on Aug. 19.

The new electrolier system will consist of 37 standards, each carrying one light.

HOUSE NUMBER PERMIT GIVEN

Hunting for house numbers in the dark tip-toeing on to people's porches and striking matches, and taking chances of having someone take a shot at you is to be eliminated.

At the meeting of the city council last night action was taken which makes it possible for residents to have their house numbers painted on the curb and in colors so that they can be easily seen.

A general permit was given J. B. Horton, which will allow him to canvass the city and install the new numbers. The numbers will be painted on the curb in black.

ZEPPELIN TO START WORLD FLIGHT TODAY

LAKEHURST, N. J., Aug. 5.—UP—The great dirigible Graf Zeppelin, thrice conqueror of the air trail over the Atlantic, was fueled this afternoon for its greatest adventure—a flight around the world.

While congratulations from all parts of the earth were showered on Dr. Hugo Eckener and his crew, the 61-year old commander of the airship told of his plans to encircle the globe in 22 days. He hopes to start the world flight Wednesday.

Simultaneously, it was learned that the German operators of the huge dirigible are proceeding with plans for the construction of four new Zeppelins twice the size of the Graf to use in a trans-Atlantic passenger service starting in 1931, with a schedule of three ocean voyages every fortnight.

Last Visit
When the silver-grey giant returns to America at the end of the around-the-world flight, it probably will be the last visit to this country. The owners feel they should not take advantage of the United States' generosity in offering its facilities at the naval air station here, and so for the present they have given up plans for any subsequent flights to the United States until they have constructed an air base of their own.

When that has been done, they hope to enter into active competition with Atlantic steamship lines.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—UP—Five robbers, with drawn guns, terrified guests in the lobby of an exclusive South Side hotel today, robbed the office of $9,800 in cash and securities and escaped.

G.O.P. GROUP WILL MEET

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(UP)—The Republican national committee has been called to meet here Sept. 9 to reorganize and begin preparations for the next campaign.

Washington expects the Republican national committee will embark on a program to counteract the effect of the high-pressure campaign which the Democrats are conducting under the direction of John J. Raskob. When Hoover was nominated he was greeted as one who would introduce high-powered organization into the haphazard practice of politics.

But after the election matters of state pressed so hard that the

NEW WHARF BANQUET TONIGHT

Final arrangements were being whipped into shape yesterday for the Chamber of Commerce dinner at the Berkeley Country club at 7 o'clock tonight.

According to Joseph F. Brooks, the dinner committee chairman, the event promises to be the outstanding affair in the recent history of Richmond. The advance reservations indicate a record attendance.

Brooks reported that acceptances are pouring in from outstanding business, industrial and professional men on both sides of the bay, promising a record attendance.

Details of the program indicated that the speakers for the occasion will review Richmond's past and will cast an eye toward the future. Fred Parr of the Parr Terminal company will go in detail into the recent history of developments in Richmond, showing what has been accomplished by community co-operation in creating the new terminal and attracting industries to the city.

Paul Shoup, president of the Southern Pacific, will be the principal speaker on the subject of transportation, both rail and water.

Plans are being perfected by a special committee for a golf tournament in the afternoon in which the local men and outside guests will participate.

The dinner committee urged that reservations now be made at once, as only a few places are still open for the dinner.

While visiting a friend at the San Francisco jail yesterday morning, Miss Ellsworth collapsed. She was taken to the Harbor Emergency hospital but in spite of emergency treatment, she failed to regain consciousness.

Her collapse came suddenly while she was talking to Frank

Grupico, who is being held in default of $50,000 bail on a statutory charge growing out of an alleged criminal attack against a young girl in the cafe of Mimi Imperato, 1918 Hyde street on July 21.

Physicians believed Miss Ellsworth had taken an overdose of sleeping powders.

Grupico said she did not use drugs, and although at one time she had taken reducing tablets, she had not taken one of those

City Denies Permit; MAY BE TEST CASE

In spite of the denial of a permit by the Richmond city council on the recommendation of the City Planning Commission, Will Roberson, attorney for Wallace Sneigrove and Charles Ryan last night declared that they would probably start construction of a funeral parlor at the northeast corner of Twenty-ninth street and Nevin avenue in the near future.

Roberson declared that a test case would be made of the city ordinance governing the construction of commercial buildings in the district zoned for residences only.

The City Planning Commission, following the protests of 81 property owners of the district, recommended the denial of the application for the building of the proposed undertaking parlors.

Examples Named
Roberson in making application for the permit called the attention of the planning commission to the number of undertaking parlors in Oakland, Berkeley, San Leandro and Alameda that have left the business districts because of heavy traffic conditions and are now located in residential districts.

According to the figures which he submitted 25 out of 28 undertaking parlors in Oakland, four out of five in Berkeley, two out

3 INJURED IN PLANE CRASH

OAKLAND, Aug. 5.—UP—A student pilot who endeavored one of the most complicated "stunts" of aviation and his two passengers were in critical condition in a hospital here tonight as the result of injuries suffered when their plane crashed near here.

Frank Santos, 22, had taken Tony Costabile, 23, Pacifico Prias, 22 on a flight as a celebration of his receipt of a flying license from Washington.

When only 500 feet above the ground the youthful aviator tried a "light spiral" which turned into a tail spin. When the craft had dropped 600 feet Santos started to level it out but its nose tilted too far forward and a dive to earth followed.

Physicians said the three men had only a slight chance to live.

What Every Girl Knows

HONESTLY, girls, isn't science simply won-der-ful? Isn't it marvelous the way these psychologists and researchers go about it—

With delicate instruments, and time tests, and tables of reactions, and lots of good time and money—

To prove beyond any doubt—

"Any possible, probable shadow of doubt, any possible doubt whatever?"

The things that a business girl with a little experience and elementary common sense knows without a struggle?

We've just been enthralled—and we want you to share our enjoyment—

Over reading all about "a scientific investigation to determine the relationship between fatigue, diet and efficiency of the modern business girl."

An investigation to find out such profound mysteries. As whether she is as full of pep at 4 o'clock in the afternoon of a long, hot office day.

At ten in the morning, whether she can do decent work on a starvation diet—

Whether her natural predilection for ice cream soda and candy really isn't giving her what she needs.

You and we may think that we can answer these profound problems off-hand—

But it is no science! It has launched its "investigation" at Temple University, under the direction of Dr. Thaddeus L. Bolton, head of the department of psychology.

Assisted by Doctors Clarence Smeltzer, Richard C. Herter, Herbert C. Hamilton—all of Temple University.

And Dr. F. L. Lums of Bryn Mawr—

They're all going to work for four weeks, to try to find out

If a girl fed's sunk in the middle of the afternoon after pounding a type-writer steadily since morning.

And if she gets a kick out of a soda and a sundae.

But here's the tale, as it has been solemnly set down for us:

"Four groups of five girls each, selected from the ranks of stenographers, typists and filing clerks."

"Are now being measured with a scientific yardstick."

"To determine to what extent fatigue incident to normal office activities."

"Affects their speed and accuracy at various hours of the business day."

"The tests will attempt first to detect both the degree of fatigue and any consequent impairment of efficiency."

"And then measure the effect by the timely eating of energy foods."

"Three of the groups of girls selected for the investigation."

"Are being served a mid-afternoon lunch having a high sugar content."

"Because, Dr. Bolton said, it has been found

"That sugar is a highly concentrated carbohydrate, or energy food."

"And is almost immediately absorbed."

"Promptly at 2:45 each day the girls stop work."

"And are served aniced drink, a three-ounce piece of cake and three pieces of candy."

"An amount which, it is explained, provides just enough energy content."

"Without resulting in a feeling of being over-fed."

"This lunch is served to each of the groups on different days."

"And the schedule is arranged so that the work of those who are provided with the lunch."

"Can be compared with the work of those who go without additional food."

"The fourth group, known as the control group."

"Is not provided with the additional food and serves as a basis of comparison."

"A number of delicate scientific instruments particularly adapted to the recording of muscular and mental reactions."

"Are being used to measure working capacity."

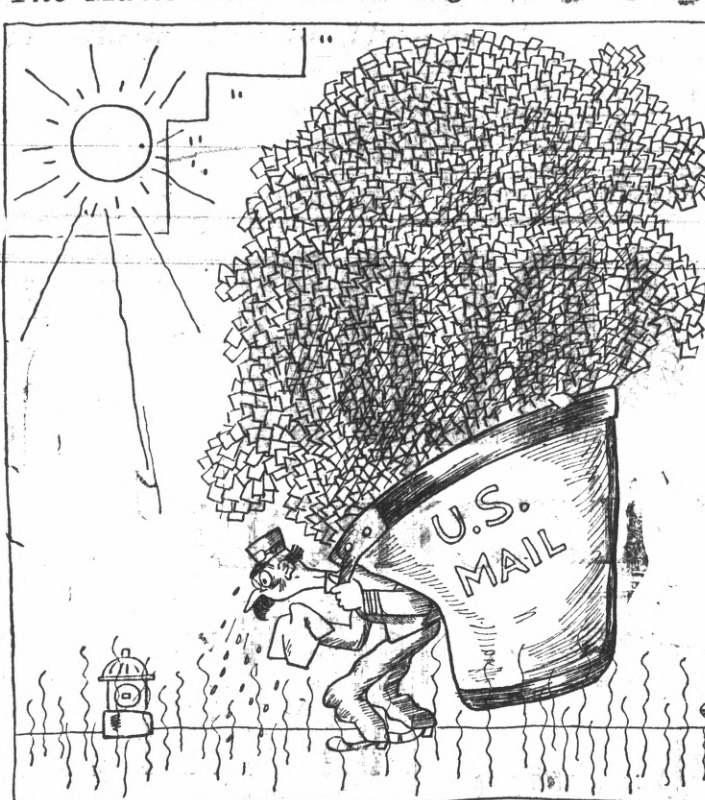

"Before and after the mid-afternoon lunch."

"These devices, electrically controlled, are operated by the girls comprising all four teams."

"In addition to typing tests, mathematical problems and several other psychological laboratory tests are given."

"The tests are given three times a day—

A Word to Wise Parents

CATCHING ENTHUSIASM

SOME children are self-starters. Never do they have to ask any one what to do, and seldom how to do what they wish.

These children are the products of unusually fortunate circumstances, of dispositions well suited to take advantage of the environment in which they find themselves.

But most children are not self-starters. Whether this is because their environment or their training has been at fault is hard to say.

Most of us naturally think of childhood as the time of spontaneity and enthusiasm and vigorous activity. Yet it is true that a great many children, when left to themselves, spend sorry hours of listlessness.

Such a child needs stimulation. Best of all is to help him find playmates who will stir him to happy pursuits. A summer camp is the best place for him.

But if, for one reason or another, it is impossible to provide for him the companionship of his fellows, an adult who can, in some measure, take their place is the next best thing.

If your child is one who finds the "ay holds many vacant hours, set yourself to be his playmate. Do with him the things in which likely he would be interested after he once got started. Do with him the things you like to do yourself.

Nothing is more catching than enthusiasm, especially when the carrier is one whom the child loves.

So swimming with your child, walk in the woods with him, play ball with him. Work with him in the garden, in the carpenter shop or the garage.

The listless one soon will catch your enthusiasm, and perhaps will become a good self-starter.

Ice As An Astringent

SHORT while ago this department advised the use of ice water as an astringent. "Why not the ice itself?" Inquired a friend. "Why not the ice itself?" Many beauty salons employ it as a finishing touch to a treatment.

"Yes, we know that many beauty salons do. We also know of beauty salons that do not. One specialist having gone so far as to declare that the use of ice on the face causes broken capillaries. On the other hand we do not doubt for a moment the word of the beauty specialist who opposes the use of ice on the face. We can tell you of several instances where a sudden change from warm to cold treatments has resulted in the broken face veins. A most unflattering affliction and one not by any means easy to correct.

And so our idea of the happy medium in cold treatments is ice water compresses. A thoroughly delicious experience for the face is this: dip a piece of absorbent cotton into ice water, then into your favorite skin tonic and press it all over the face and throat. Repeat the process several times. The average skin will respond to this treatment with the freshness and glow of a healthy child's skin.

For closing the pores, firming flabby skin, putting it in the pink as a moment's notice, the icy compress will be most satisfactory. Of course it should be given following a cleansing with soap and water or cream or lotion.

Progress in Industry

For preserving poles and other wooden articles German chemists have developed a method for injecting fungus-killing and decay bacteria-destrory chemicals.

This mud in a German river is so permeated with combustible matter that bricks made of it and dried have been burned to produce gas that runs electric generators.

Hoover Visitor Causes Big Rumpus at White House by Suggesting That Coolidge Is Planning to Come Back in 1932

WASHINGTON, D. C.

A few days ago a friend of one of the White House secretaries sat in the big office adjoining that of the President.

It was hot outside, plenty hot. The White House was cool, restful.

"This probably is the nicest house in Washington when you stop to think of it," the visitor ventured.

"Do you mean the most desirable?" was asked.

"Wholly aside from that," the visitor explained, "it is just about the nicest place to live around here, irrespective of the political advantages."

There was a lapse of a few minutes, while the two men looked out the windows on the broad expanse of well-kept lawn, the old trees and the White House policeman standing in the shade feeding peanuts to a tame squirrel.

"Rather nice of Mr. Coolidge to have turned this lovely house over to Mr. and Mrs. Hoover for four years," the visitor mused.

"What do you mean four years?" the Hoover secretary demanded quite fiercely.

The visitor saw he had struck a sensitive spot.

"Why until 1933, of course; what else could I mean?"

The secretary just sputtered: "Just how do you get that way? Can't you come here and be pleasant for a few minutes?"

"Why, I thought it was set forth clearly in the terms of the lease that Mr. Coolidge gave up the White House for only four years, and that it was understood he would be back at the end of four years," the visitor countered.

"It was my understanding that he forced the nomination of Mr. Hoover on the Kansas City Convention after an agreement that Coolidge would be the party choice in 1932."

The Hoover secretary had resort to language which is supposed to be taboo in Washington nowadays. Among the printable things he said was: "Kindly get the hell out of here with that kind of a talk."

The visitor went his way.

CHANGED HIS MIND

Calvin Coolidge hardly could have been to Baltimore on his return to Northampton from Washington after witnessing the Kellogg-Briand peace pact promulgation before the White House secretary had motored out to the Maryland residence of the man who had been a visitor at the Executive offices of a few days previous.

"You're right," he said. "Coolidge acts like a candidate if ever I saw one. The newspapermen said he was all of that at his press conference here. Did you have any real information when you were talking the other day or were you just trying to be funny at my expense?"

"Wholly the latter," the Hooverite was assured.

"Are you jesting now or are you telling the truth?"

"I assure you, Mr. Coolidge has not confided any part of his plans to me," was the answer, an honest one.

"If Coolidge is not a candidate, why should he put on the sort of show he did in Washington?"

"How should I know?"

"He would not stay at the White House and he asked for a press conference, wrong?" He admonished newspapermen to read his magazine articles.

"Perhaps, there is a certain enjoyment in reading his magazine articles."

Chicken salad rarely fails to please the discerning palate. And chicken salad supreme is gratifying choice for the hostess who wishes to serve the mysteriously good flavor of this variation of straight chicken and celery salad may be traced to the extra walnuts and crushed pineapple combined with the usual ingredients.

One teaspoon sugar
Three tablespoons vinegar
One egg.

The dressing is better for a thorough chilling before mixing with the salad materials. Veal may be substituted for chicken in the recipe.

The culinary kit includes a double boiler, tablespoon, measuring cup, small bowl, large spoon, fork, clock, sharp knife, cutting board, can opener, strainer, mixing bowl, salad bowl.

To make the dressing, scald the milk in the double boiler and add the butter. Mix thoroughly in the small bowl, the salt, prepared mustard, flour, sugar and vinegar; add slowly to the scalded milk. Stir and cook until thick. Beat the egg slightly and mix with a little of the thick dressing; then turn into the hot dressing and cook a minute. Strain if necessary and chill well before using.

Just before serving time, open the pineapple and drain well. The juice and excess pineapple may be utilized for the breakfast first course or cooling drinks. Dice the chicken or veal; chop the celery; break the salted walnuts. Mix all together lightly in the mixing bowl and salt sparingly for the nuts are salty.

Line the chilled salad bowl with crisp lettuce or any salad green and tender celery tips; arrange the salad mixture in the next step prepared and pour over half the salad dressing. Mix carefully and then pour the remaining dressing over the top. Garnish with radish roses and serve at once.

What Society Is Wearing

MRS. ALBERT GALLATIN STRESSES THE NOTE OF SIMPLICITY IN HER SPORTS WEAR.

Sports Costume Worn by Mrs. Albert Gallatin Is Simple and Smart

By HELEN WORDEN
Copyright Press Publishing Co.
(New York World) 1929

Simplicity is the keynote of the smart sports costume worn by Mrs. Albert Gallatin at Newport.

The horizontal striped sweater is devoid of trimming, save for the narrow band of light woolen fabric that forms the hip line. A V-shaped neck line and long, close-fitting sleeves contribute to the simple lines of the chic knitted slip-on.

The skirt which accompanies the blouse is correspondingly tailored in silhouette and fashioned of the same fabric that forms that hip band on the sweater.

For accessories, Mrs. Gallatin has chosen a small, narrow brimmed felt hat, turned jauntily back from the face, two strands of pearl beads, white chambray slip-on gloves, an embroidered fabric pouch bag, light silk stockings and plain kid pumps.

The white slip-on gloves are a smart feature in summer accessories. For sports costumes they are decidedly chic and introduce a crisp, cool note to the most simple of costumes.

Newport society is interested in the visit of Gen. Henri Gouraud and the subsequent round of entertainments that are being given for the famous Frenchman. The general is the guest of the Perry Belmonts. It is hoped that he will remain in Newport for the regatta that is to be held this coming week.

OUTBREAK OF TONG WAR FEARED

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—UP—Chicago's "Chinatown" was under heavy police guard today after leaders of the On Leong and Hip Sing Tong admitted that a serious outbreak was possible and pointed to casualties in eastern cities as an ominous indication.

Two Chinese were killed, one in Chicago and another in Newark, N. J., and four others were wounded in shootings between the rival Oriental Tong.

Frank Moy, "Mayor" of Chinatown, Tom Lee, president of the Leong Merchants association and Lee Loy, acting ruler of the Hip Sing Tong, called at police headquarters to discuss the situation with Deputy Police Commissioner John Stages.

Nine detective squads were sent to the Chinese section of the city when the recognized leaders admitted the outbreak might develop as seriously as the one a year ago when more than 70 Tong members were killed throughout the United States.

Yee Sun, a Hip Sing member, was the first victim in the flare-up in Chicago. He was killed near the headquarters of the On Leong headquarters. A few hours later, Kar Leon Wong, also a Hip Sing, was shot three times as he walked down a passageway to his living quarters.

In both instances, the guns used in the shooting were placed beside the victims, a traditional Tong practice. Seven suspects were held for questioning.

Louis Ga Fung, member of the On Leongs, died today of wounds received at Newark, N. J., according to a dispatch received here. Fung was playing fan-tan when the shooting occurred.

In Boston a Hip Sing member was probably fatally wounded but he refused to give any information to identify his assailant.

A Chinese restaurant owner and a Negro woman were wounded in New York city by a gunman who opened fire without warning and fled.

Equal Rights For Chinese Women Seen
PEKING, Aug. 5.—UP—Equal rights for women in China will shortly extend to the divorce court, where men can sue their erring wives for marital infidelity and expect to collect alimony.

That is the interpretation placed upon a proposed "equal rights" law by Wei Tao-Min, acting director of the judicial board at Nanking, in an interview quoted by the Kuo-Wen news agency here.

"If we are to have equal rights in China, we will have them absolutely equal," Wei was quoted as saying. "The men will have the same rights as the women, the women the same as the men. Since wives can sue for alimony, there is no reason why husbands should not have the same privilege."

The new law, Wei added, will permit the judge to decide alimony on the basis of guiltability. If the wife is wrong, she pays. If the husband is wrong, he pays.

REDUCTION IN STUDEBAKER PRICES

Effective yesterday, the Studebaker Automobile company announced price reductions on their cars up to $250, according to word received here by L. J. Thomas, 222 Tenth street, Richmond dealer.

Both sixes and eights are effected by the price change, Thomas announced, including the President eight, the Dictator eight and the Commander six.

This price reduction is made possible by increasing volume and by economies resulting from consolidation of all Studebaker manufacturing operations in South Bend, Ind., Thomas declared.

More people have been buying Studebaker eight-cylinder cars than any other European or American eight, Thomas declared. Now with reduced prices on the cars unprecedented demand may be expected, Thomas said.

Purchasers were warned by Thomas to make their orders immediately for an early delivery.

REDUCTION IN STUDEBAKER PRICES

Effective yesterday, the Studebaker Automobile company announced price reductions on their cars up to $250, according to word received here by L. J. Thomas, 222 Tenth street, Richmond dealer.

Both sixes and eights are effected by the price change, Thomas announced, including the President eight, the Dictator eight and the Commander six.

This price reduction is made possible by increasing volume and by economies resulting from consolidation of all Studebaker manufacturing operations in South Bend, Ind., Thomas declared.

More people have been buying Studebaker eight-cylinder cars than any other European or American eight, Thomas declared. Now with reduced prices on the cars unprecedented demand may be expected, Thomas said.

Purchasers were warned by Thomas to make their orders immediately for an early delivery.

School nurse, says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, these are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping. Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless. And it works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine."

Exits One Jail, Enters Another

BUFFALO, N. Y.—"In again, Collins?" inquired Judge Standard in city court.

"Yes, your honor," Collins replied. "But it's been three months he added hopefully."

"Where have you been?" "Doing 90 days," Collins responded.

"Better take six months this time," the court said. Collins had been arrested for intoxication.

Hay(s)! Hay(s)! And Oh Deer!

Big Cigar And Tire Men Foiled

If you heard this before, stop me. It seems that there were two deer hunters by the name of A. C. Coster and Art Coon of Richmond, who journeyed into the wilds of Cazadero Sunday in search of the elusive venison.

After tramping hour after hour through the woods, what should they see before them but a deer.

"Huh, meat in the pot!" Coster muttered.

The two threw their guns to their shoulders. Both drew bullets.

Shot after shot split the air. Bullets shrieked. The firing ceased until it sounded like the roar of a battle.

"Gosh," the deer muttered, "them mosquitos are getting fierce."

The fusillade continued. Coster and Coon pumped shell after shell into their rifles.

Today "he two are munching jerkie, made from the carcass of the deer."

"But—shall we be so cruel and tell it—yes, we must."

For it seems that their guide, Pete Reifino, waited until the two had exhausted their ammunition. With a bored sigh Reifino raised his rifle and shot once. And the deer passed onward to where all good deer go.

The schemes that hunters adopt to get a deer are many and devious. Sometimes they work and sometimes they do not.

In this connection, tales of the prowess of M. Hays, realtor at Twenty-third and MacDonald, who is now on a hunting expedition in Mendocino county, have reached this city by the grapevine route.

There are many deer in the Mendocino county section, and Hays has seen a number, but never got within shooting distance of them until a few days.

Tramping through the hills he spied a big buck about 100 feet away from him. "Harry" ducked behind a big rock, leveled his rifle, got a dead bead on the buck, shut his eyes and pulled the trigger.

Immediately dropping his gun he made a run for the spot where the buck had been, but there was no sign of the deer. Just disappearing in the woods "Harry" got a fading glimpse of the animal, and all he could make out was a wagging tail.

In many instances tears bring results. The famous rock has now been adopted as a shrine, and daily Hays wends his way to the spot and weeps.

His many friends still have hopes that some deer will wander in his way, and through some means or other he will be able to return with some venison.

Bones Of Old Animal Found

PONCA CITY, Okla.—Two huge teeth in excellent state of preservation and parts of the jawbone of some prehistoric animal have been discovered near here in stone quarries. The bones are evidently those of a monstrous mastodon. They were found embedded near a creek apparently washed by high waters and covered by sand throughout the countless years.

Record Price Paid For Old Newspaper

WORCHESTER, Mass.—When you buy a newspaper for two or three cents, consider yourself lucky. Joseph Mula paid $2249.52 for one recently. Two men induced him to give them that amount of money to show he was an honest man. In exchange they intrusted him with a package supposed to contain $10,000. When Mula opened the bundle later, he found only a newspaper clipped to form sheets the size of bills.

OAKS TO MEET SEATTLE TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—UP—Four teams of the first division of the Pacific Coast league will engage in contests this week that may determine the winner of the second half of the season, even though nine weeks of play remain.

The league-leading San Francisco Seals and fourth place Los Angeles Angels are only three games apart in the standings while the Missions and Hollywood are tied for second position, one game behind the Seals.

Thus, with the Seals and Missions cashing here and Los Angeles opposing Hollywood in the southern city, importance of the games starting Tuesday cannot be minimized. The Seals and Missions will have the slight advantage of having "last bats."

Portland's Beavers, who are four games behind Los Angeles, will play against Sacramento at the California capital and Oakland will entertain Seattle.

CITY REFUSES 7 COUPLES MORTUARY PERMIT IN MARATHON

of three in San Leandro and four out of five in Alameda are now located in residence district.

He declared that planning commissions in other cities are refusing permission to undertake parlor buildings established in business sections due to parking and traffic conditions.

The location at Twenty-ninth street and Nevin avenue, he stated, was one of the best that could be obtained by his client from the standpoint of traffic. Ryan, he said, had an option on a piece of property at Twenty-eighth street and Macdonald avenue but abandoned the site because of traffic.

Owners Present

Many of the property owners were present at the hearing to voice their protests. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Westover, owners of property across the street from the proposed mortuary, declared that they had begun improving their lots but would not continue with the work until they were assured that the undertaking parlors would not be located in front of their proposed home.

The serious aspect of the hearing was broken when J. Montgomery in protesting the permit asked Snelgrove how he would like to live near an undertaking parlor and the latter replied: "I live over one now and don't mind it a bit."

The majority of the property owners were opposed to any form of business being located in the district. They declared they had purchased property in that section of the city because they had been assured that it would remain a residence district.

Objections Answered

To this objection, Robinson replied that if Macdonald and Nevin avenue from Twenty-third street to San Pablo avenue do not become business streets "one of your leading" protesters, misses his guess.

He stated that most of the anti-parity to undertaking parlors was based on that business as formerly conducted. He called attention to a Pasadena mortuary leasing its parlors for bridge parties for charitable purposes and to a Berkeley parlor being rented from time to time for weddings. Ryan, he stated, planned a building to cost $15,000 and beautiful grounds that would be an improvement to the district.

Robinson said that he lived one and one half blocks from an undertaking parlor and the only objection he had was to the traffic which he characterized as a hazard in case of fires.

The motion for denial of the permit was made by W. W. Scott "in view of the fact that most of the property owner have entered protests." He was seconded by City Attorney T. M. Carlson. A poll of the vote showed that all members of the commission were opposed to the permit.

House Number Permit Given By Council

Letters on an orange background. The cost will be 35 cents for each house.

When the matter first came up before the city council and explained his plan. He stated it had been adopted in Berkeley, Oakland, Alameda, San Leandro and in many cities of the southern part of the state.

Councilman Mattie Chandler opposed the plan, claiming that the housewives of the city were pestered enough with solicitors, and besides she did not believe in giving a permit to an outside party.

Councilman A. B. Hinkley thought the plan was a good one, and he was in favor of it, because it was a modern matter. He stated that many times he had gone from house to house looking for a number. With the painting on the curb it will be an easy matter for a person to find the place at night.

Mayor A. L. Payson stated that he had looked at the signs in Alameda and was quite pleased with them. He thought the plan was a good one for the people of the city.

Hinkley then moved that the permit be granted and on roll call all voted in favor except Chandler and Johnson.

Afterward Superintendent of Streets E. A. Hoffman made arrangements with Horton, by which he will paint the names of the streets on intersecting curbs without any additional expense, except that the paint will be furnished for he additional work.

G. O. P. GROUP WILL HOLD MEET

Republican national organization has had to drift along while the Democratic national committee has been hard at work reforming its ranks, which were so widely scattered in the rout of 1928.

New Chairman

The big business of the meeting will be the election of a national chairman to succeed Dr. Hubert Work, who recently resigned. Although officially the choice is to be made by the committee, there is a strong belief in Washington that Hoover, casting about for some more dynamic party executive than Dr. Work, has chosen Claudius Huston of Tennessee as the man for the national committee to elect as its next chairman. Huston has not been on good political terms with his Tennessee national committeeman, J. Will Taylor, but reports are they are now pulling in harness.

Huston is a Hooveresque type and will put Republican national politics more completely on a business basis. There is no reason to believe this skilled executive will not follow the traditional practice of national chairmen in dozing between presidential campaigns but will take over the offices of the committee here and set to work on building up party morale for the congressional campaign next year.

Tests Seen

Officially, the national committee deals only with presidential campaigns but as the president has an indirect stake in these elections which are usually construed as a sort of midway test of an administration's popularity, it is likely Huston will find ways of utilizing the committee's power next year.

The committee, at its meeting next month, also will select a vice chairman to succeed Mrs. A. T. Hert of Kentucky, who resigned after a prominent role in the presidential campaign which caused her to be suggested for secretary of interior—a suggestion which did not meet with Hoover's approval and which Mrs. Hert herself disavowed.

General belief is she will be succeeded by Mrs. Worthington Scranton of Scranton, Pa., Republican national committeewoman for Pennsylvania, worth several millions, a strong Hooverette who against strong opposition persuaded the president to nominate Albert M. Watson of Scranton for a federal judgeship.

Mrs. Pantages To Face Trial Sept. 3

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 5.—UP—Mrs. Lois Pantages, wife of Alexander Pantages, wealthy vaudeville theater magnate, will go to trial on Sept. 3 on a charge of second degree murder growing out of an automobile accident.

Joe Rokomoto, Japanese was killed when his automobile was hit by a car driven by Mrs. Pantages. Mrs. Pantages was still weak from effects of the accident and appeared in court leaning heavily on a nurse's arm.

MORTEMOTH KILLS MOTHS

The gas from Mortemoth crystals not only protects your furniture for a long time, but contact with it kills all moths, their eggs and their dangerous larvae in furniture which is already infested.

The proper method of using Mortemoth crystals is to tie them in small sacks, and to place these sacks down in the channel of the piece, as deeply as possible, behind the cushions, so that, upon expansion, the gas will spread and fill the spring units in the back and in the bottom of the piece.

When the sacks are empty, fill them again.

STREET WORK IN EL CERRITO ASKED

A petition from the property owners in Berkeley Park and Cerrito Park tracts to the council of El Cerrito at their meeting Monday night asking for the improvement of portions of Santa Fe avenue and Colusa avenue was referred to the board of supervisors of Contra Costa county.

City Engineer Ross L. Calfee stated that as 60 per cent of the frontage was in the county, that it was in their control, so the council passed a motion sanctioning the improvement and giving the board of supervisors jurisdiction.

Assignment of the contract of A. R. Allen, who was low bidder on the improvement, of a portion of Arlington boulevard connecting with Cutting boulevard a few weeks ago to Peres and Gatto was accepted by the council.

Street Commissioner Phil A. Lee stated that Peres and Gatto would commence work Tuesday.

The style of your handwriting—the size of the letters—the way you cross your i's and dot your y's—may indicate your character. However, the documents to which you put your signature reveal far more.

For example, your signature to a Life Insurance Trust Agreement which protects your insurance money, provides a regular income for your family and extra money for emergencies—reveals firmness, generosity, business judgment and thoughtfulness for those who come after you.
